Are you interested in post graduate education in Nutritional and Environmental Medicine?

Come along to the next ACNEM Primary Modules training event and get started!

The Australasian College of Nutritional and Environmental Medicine (ACNEM) has been providing post graduate education to doctors and healthcare professionals for over 30 years. As world-leaders in nutritional and environmental medicine, ACNEM is at the forefront of transforming the current paradigm of medicine to one that is preventative and positioned to address and reverse the world-wide trend of rising rates of chronic diseases.

"Completing the lectures in Primary Module 1 has been a life changer for me. I have been saying 'Now, that makes sense!'" - Dr EC

"This course has been eye opening and challenged me to open my mind and traditional approach to medicine - thank you." - Dr ST
